Subject: Upper Animas 104(e) letters and responses

Mike and Lindsay – Here are the documents in EPA’s records that would be good to include in the set of records we are putting together for the 104(e)s. If EPA has the documents in its records, please use the EPA scanned document, except for the Washington Mining Co submitted documents. Thinking about this a little bit more, I think that we should put the documents claimed as CBI on a separate computer disk from the other releasable documents.

Kinross

EPA 104(e) request – Dated 01/16/13 – SDMS # 1259771

Kinross response – dated 05/14/13 – SDMS # 1266342 – This document includes the responses to the 104(e) questions and the non-confidential documents submitted with the response.

Kinross response – dated 05/14/13 – SDMS # 1266343 – This document includes a cover letter and documents asserted to be CBI confidential.

Sunnyside

EPA 104(e) request – dated 01/16/13 – SDMS # 1259773

Sunnyside response – dated 05/14/13 – SDMS # 1266340

Sunnyside response – dated 05/16/13 – SDMS #1279898 - This document includes a cover letter and documents asserted to be CBI confidential.

The Sunnyside documents scanned by Toeroek are not yet in EPA’s records. Please recall that we should use the Sunnyside documents that have been redacted for this project.

Mueller

EPA 104(e) request – dated 01/16/13 – SDMS # 1259772

Mueller response – dated 06/06/13 – SDMS # 1266344 - This document includes the responses to the 104(e) questions and the non-confidential documents submitted with the response.

Washington Mining

No 104(e) was sent to Washington, they answered the questions sent to Mueller.

Washington response – dated 06/06/13 – SDMS # 1266345 – The documents submitted by Washington on a portable hard drive are in EPA's records but have been divided into chunks of approximately 50 MBs each and can be seen if you look at the metapage for this document. I would prefer that for this effort we just use the copies that were on the portable hard drive Washington provided in its response.

Let me know if you have any questions.
